EXPAND YOUR MIND

You're never to old or too young to learn a new trade, discover new creative potential, or strike out in a different direction. Here are but a few learning activities available at Fort Mason Center.

Astrology Lecture

The National Council for Geocosmic Research holds frequent courses in astrology. Topics may include medical astrology, astronomical calculations, and certification courses. In this month's lecture, astrologer Ken Bowser examines the presidential candidates' chances, based on lunar calculations. Gatehouse; see July 18.

California Lawyers for the Arts

People working in the visual arts often wonder about legal issues having to do with their work.

DANCE FEST

Dandelion Dance Theater

More than two dozen distinguished Bay Area choreographers participate in Summerfest/dance, the 9th annual festival of local dance talent. Summerfest/dance engages audiences with a wide range of the most exciting emerging and established performers in the Bay Area. Its founding mission is to provide a venue for choreographers to present new works or refine their repertoire.

The works presented cover a myriad of movement styles including tap, ballet, jazz, modern, and contact improvisational. While some of the works are for large groups of ten dancers or more, others are solos or dances for two. Similarly, some choreographers have set their works to taped baroque and classical music, while others premiere newly commissioned scores performed live onstage.

Summerfest/dance is a series of six programs, each featuring several performers. Program I displays the talents of Lea Wolf, POTRZEBIE Dance Project, STEAMROLLER, and Stephen Pelton Dance Theater. Program II features works by Deborah Slater Dance Theater, Mary Reid, Mark Foehrer Dance Project, and Mary S. Carbonara.

Program III features dances by Sonya Delwaide, Carol Kueffer, Frank Shawl, and Randee Pauve. Program IV includes works by Carol Abotatab, Steve Hunter, Shone Curley, CaliCo Dance Company, and The SHOOK Dance Troupe.

Program V presents the Dr. Shaffer and Mr. Stern Dance Ensemble, Dandelion Dance Theater, the Beauty School, and NUBA Dance Theatre. Program VI features Annie Rosenthal and Company, Katherine Warner, Ann Woodhead, Mel Wong Dance Company, and Nancy Karp + Dancers.

Please note that Program V includes a piece with dancers performing in the nude.

New this year is a "Dance Film Series" curated by Cynthia Pepper of the Footage Dance Film Festival. The series, which consists clips of historic and recent performances, is shown each Sunday at 1pm. Specific film titles are not yet announced.

"Summerfest/dance 2000" takes place July 13 through 30, Thursday through Sunday at 8pm in the Cowell Theater. Tickets are $12 to $15. For tickets and information, call (415) 441-FMFS.

There are questions of copyright, dealing with galleries, signing contracts, and filing taxes. Each month, California Lawyers for the Arts holds two workshops on such topics. This month's workshops cover "Contract Basics for Film and Video" (July 12) and "Artist/Gallery Contracts" (July 26). In addition, there are weekly copyright clinics held by appointment. For information, call (415) 775-7200 or visit www.calawyersfortheart.org.

City College of San Francisco

The Fort Mason Art Campus offers courses in ceramics, sculpture, design, drawing, painting, photography, printmaking, and the business of art. Continuing Education courses in other topics are available as well. Registration opens this month for fall classes starting in August. New students can sign up starting July 27. For information, call (415) 561-1840 or visit www.ccsf.org.

Learn to Swing Dance

Swing Jitterbug is back for the summer, under the spirited direction of instructor Diana Castillo. With more than 20 years experience, Castillo brings the heart and soul of swing alive. Learn the Lindy Hop, all kinds of new moves, leading and following. No partner is necessary. Classes take place Wednesdays in Landmark Building C. For information, call (510) 549-3591 or visit www.wantto dance.com.

Modern Chinese Dance

The Lily Cai Dance Academy and Chinese Cultural Productions invite students of all ages to learn Lily Cai's unique and original dance technique fusing Eastern and Western styles. This is a rare opportunity to learn a beautiful and health-building dance form created by one the Bay Area's leading choreographers. Classes start July 3 and run through August 20. For information, call (415) 474-4829 or visit www.ccpst.org.

The Way of The Shaman

The California Institute of Integral Studies holds a healing seminar and workshop. Sandra Harner, who has taught shamanism for a quarter of a century, offers experiential teachings on traditional methods for problem-solving and well-being. "The Way of the Shaman" takes place July 22 and 23, Saturday and Sunday from 9:30am to 5pm in the Conference Center in Landmark Building A. For information, call (415) 575-6175 or visit www.ciis.edu.

Wine Tasting

Drink Great Wine, a Bay Area network of wine and food-loving professionals, hosts "The World's Greatest Wine Varietals," a seminar on French and California wines. Joel Butler, Master of Wine and Director of Education for Beaulieu Vineyards, compares the finest local varietals with their French counterparts. The wine lecture takes place July 20, Thursday from 7 to 9pm in the Conference Center in Landmark Building A. For information, call (415) 721-4222.

Many other classes and workshops take place at Fort Mason Center. These cover anything from calligraphy to tai chi, aerobics to children's theater. Quite a few of them are ongoing courses where drop-ins are welcome. For more information, see the Classes and Workshops page of this calendar.

SAVAGE JAZZ DANCE

Oakland's Savage Jazz Dance Company presents an evening of live jazz featuring the music of legendary jazz composer and bassist Charles Mingus, and award-winning Bay Area composer Marcus Shelby. "Passions of Three Men: The Jazz of Mingus, Shelby and Savage" features five world premiere works choreographed by Artistic Director Reginald Ray-Savage. The Marcus Shelby Orchestra accompanies all shows.

Savage Jazz, the only concert dance company in the Bay Area with an all-jazz repertoire, was founded in 1992 by choreographer Ray-Savage. The company has commissioned works by Robert Moses, Artistic Director of Robert Moses' Kin, choreographer Jon Gourline, and long-time company member Zafra Miriam. Savage Jazz has performed annual home seasons in Oakland and as part of Black Choreographers Moving Toward The 21st Century, Bay Area Dance Series, California Dance Educators Conference and Dance Mosaic.

The company has held numerous workshops and lecture demonstrations throughout the Oakland public school system and in association with the Mayor of Oakland's After-School Program and Summer Performing Arts Camp.

Savage's five premieres are all named for the Mingus classics to which they are performed. Fables of Faubus is an abstraction of the racially tense late 1950s and '60s. For Better Get It In Your Soul, perhaps Mingus' best known piece, Savage has choreographed a straight-up, funky, gospel-inspired jazz dance. Hora Decubitus, which translated means, "at bedtime," is a high-energy piece depicting the late-night partying of Mingus' jazz era. Pedal Point Blues is a tribute to the down-south, shack-in-the-back, dirt floor, juke joint dancing and music of the times. Still in progress are Savage's Peggy's Blue Skylight; For Harry Carney, a world premiere choreographed by Zafra Miriam; and an as-yet untitled work by guest choreographer Marni Thomas.

Jazz composer and recording artist Marcus Shelby is CEO and President of the San Francisco-based independent label NOIR Records and a prolific composer for theater, dance, and film. He has composed original music for the films Higher Learning, White Man's Burden, and the Image Award-nominated Ermitt Till.

FIREWORKS

San Francisco celebrates the 224th anniversary of American independence with a giant celebration stretching two miles along Fisherman's Wharf. In what is expected to be the largest single-day event in Northern California, some 250,000 revelers can listen to more than 30 bands while enjoying the sun and sampling international foods.

The festival is sponsored by the San Francisco Chronicle in conjunction with Fisherman's Wharf businesses, the Port of San Francisco, the City and County of San Francisco, and the San Francisco Maritime National Historical Park and Golden Gate National Recreation Area. It is a celebration both of Independence Day and of San Francisco's beautiful waterfront heritage.

Six stages set up at strategic intervals between Aquatic Park and Pier 39 bring some of the best jazz, blues, zydeco, country, reggae, and rock acts from the Bay Area. Among these are Sy Kloppe, Lee Press-On and the Nails, Motor Dude Zydeco, Annie Sampson, Memphis Exchange, and the United States Air Force jazz band, Airmen of Note.

An International Food Bazaar at Aquatic Park and another along the Embarcadero offer snacks, lunch, and refreshments from almost every part of the Bay Area's vast culinary spectrum.

The day concludes at 9:30pm with a half-hour fireworks show from local pyrotechnics company PyroSpectacular. The display features two identical, electronically fired, fully choreographed shows—one shot from the end of Aquatic Park's Municipal Pier, the other from barges anchored mid-Bay near Alcatraz. During the grand finale, more than 500 charges going off in 20 seconds ensure a stunning climax to the day.

The San Francisco Chronicle Fourth of July Fireworks and Waterfront Music Festival takes place July 4, Tuesday from 2 to 10pm at Fisherman's Wharf. Admission is free. For information, call (415) 777-1120 or visit www.chroniclevents.com/fourthofjuly.

Shelby is co-artistic director of the Jazz Antigua Dance and Music Company and has worked locally with Robert Henry Johnson Dance Company and Robert Moses' Kin. This marks his third season collaborating with Savage Jazz Dance Company.

"Passions of Three Men" is performed July 7 through 9, Friday and Saturday at 8pm, Sunday at 2 and 8pm, in the Cowell Theater. Tickets are $20 for adults, $16 for students and seniors. For tickets and information, call (415) 441-FMFS, or visit www.savagejazz.org.

HEALTH AND FITNESS EXPO

The public is invited to explore healthy living at an exposition of more than 75 vendors of personal fitness products and services. The San Francisco Chronicle Health and Fitness Expo features all the latest in nutrition, exercise, sports gear, and clothing for the active, fit individual.

The expo is held in conjunction with this year's San Francisco Chronicle Marathon, a 26.2-mile race through San Francisco, taking place July 9.

The race passes by many of the city's best sights along the way. The course winds through the Presidio, along Fisherman's Wharf, past the new PacBell Park, along Potrero Hill, through the Mission District, visiting the Haight-Ashbury, Golden Gate Park, and Ocean Beach.

Runners can participate in the whole race or half the course, if they choose. Live bands provide local flavor at various spots along the route.

A marathon is the ultimate physical endurance test, but even non-runners or occasional joggers can find something of interest at the pre-race expo. Besides the informational and product booths, the event offers marathon merchandise, T-shirts, and "Goody Bags."

FIELD OF GREENS

Annie Somerville

Annie Somerville, executive chef of Greens restaurant, and Wendy Johnson, organic horticulturist, host a day of gardening, cooking and meditation at Green Gulch Farm Zen Center. Participants receive gardening instruction, study crops, and harvest from the Farm's summer fields. In the afternoon, participants learn how to cook a hearty vegetarian lunch and receive an afternoon sampling from the fields. Guests are then welcome to join in an evening meditation session.

Somerville is the author of Fields of Greens, the award-winning book of recipes from Greens restaurant. Johnson is a lay student of Buddhism as well as a horticulturist.

Green Gulch Farm Zen Center, also known as Green Dragon Temple (Soryu-ji), is a Buddhist practice center in the Japanese Soto Zen tradition offering training in Zen Meditation and ordinary work. It is one of three centers that make up the San Francisco Zen Center, which was founded by Shunryu Suzuki-roshi. Green Gulch Farm is located in Sausalito, just north of San Francisco, in a valley that opens out to the Pacific Ocean. In addition to the temple program of meditation and study, it includes an organic farm and garden, as well as a guest and conference center.

"Fields of Greens: A Summer Jamboree" takes place Saturday, July 15 from 10am to 5pm. The workshop is $75, and does not include dinner. Pre-registration by mail is required. To register, send a check along with your address and telephone number to Green Gulch Farm, 1601 Shoreline Highway, Sausalito, CA 94965. For information, call (415) 383-3134.

The San Francisco Chronicle Health and Fitness Expo takes place July 7 and 8, Friday from 3 to 7pm and Saturday from 9am to 5pm, in the Herbst Pavilion. Admission is free. For more information, call (800) 698-8699 or visit www.chroniclemarathon.com.

NEW PHOTOGRAPHY

SMOMA Rental Gallery
"Untitled" (from "Germany 1996/99" series)
by Stephan von Pohl

Coinciding with Photo San Francisco, two exhibits showcase new works by emerging photographers.

SFMOMA Rental Gallery

"New Photography," the gallery's annual show of Bay Area photography, features thirteen artists.

The works cover a wide range of styles and methods. There's the urban (sur)realism of Stephan von Pohl, Amy Auerbach, and David Stroud; intimate portraits by Sharon Margaret Wickham; the visual fragments of Abner Nolan and Janet Delaney; and Gretchen LeMaistre's perforated images. Also featured are Tamara Barton, Adrienne Eberhardt, Robert Fitzgerald, David Heintz, Lena Hyde, and Kurt Silvershield.

"New Photography" runs July 5 through 28 at the San Francisco Museum of Modern Art Rental Gallery in Landmark Building A. The gallery is open Tuesday through Saturday from 11:30am to 5:30pm. An opening reception takes place July 5, Wednesday from 5:30 to 7:30pm. For information, call (415) 441-4777.

ART AND COLLECTIBLES

Photo San Francisco may be the biggest arts event this month (see article, next page), but it is hardly the only one. Three separate sales offer a wide variety of fine art, crafts, and collectibles.

Artists Market

Fort Mason Center has long been an important part of the San Francisco creative scene. The City College of San Francisco Art Campus at the Center especially has been a valuable resource for local citizens wanting to turn their love of art into something more.

Now a group of CCSF students inaugurates a new monthly venue for struggling painters and sculptors to display and sell their creations. The San Francisco Artists Market grew out of a week-end sale held for Mother's Day two months ago. That event, called "Slip, Chip, Wedge, Weld," consisted of sculpture, ceramics, paintings, pottery, and prints, much of it made on the Fort Mason Center premises.

The Artists Market is open to anyone looking for more exposure for his or her work. For one Saturday each month through the end of the year, the Market invites the public to see what's going on in San Francisco's arts and crafts scenes.

This month, the San Francisco Artists Market is held July 8, Saturday from 10am to 5pm in the Gatehouse. For information on exhibiting or viewing artwork, call (415) 771-8770 or visit www.geocities.com/art2c.

MAGIC SEASON ENDS

Summertime

The Magic Theatre's 1999/2000 season ends this month with Summertime, a look at postmodern love by playwright and historian Charles L. Mee. This insightful and absurdly comic play receives its world premiere at the Magic.

Summertime follows a group of sexual sophisticates vacationing at a Martha's Vineyard estate. In a series of Fellini-esque scenes, this mix of social highbrows and deviant servants reveals past trysts, libidinous histories, and personal secrets. The verbal sparring becomes more and more unhinged as the play moves along, until the characters' true vulnerability emerges.

Director Kenn Watt describes the dialogue as "free-flowing jazz riffs on love an passion." Mee's works often incorporate the modern media landscape, as characters refer to advertising, advice columns, talk radio, and other flotsam and jetsam of contemporary culture.

Summertime previews June 30 and July 1, Friday and Saturday, and July 5 and 6, Wednesday and Thursday, at 8pm. Admission is $15. Opening night is July 7, Friday at 8pm. Regular shows start July 9 and are held Wednesday through Saturday at 8pm, Sunday at 2:30pm. Admission is $25 Wednesday, Thursday, and Sunday; $30 Friday and Saturday. Limited student and senior rush tickets are $8. For information, call (415) 441-8822 or visit www.magictheatre.org.

The 2000/01 Season

Big news this year is The Late Henry Moss, a world premiere by Magic Theatre alumnus Sam Shepard. An all-star cast—Woody Harrelson, Cheech Marin, Nick Nolte, and Sean Penn—participate in this special production at downtown San Francisco's Theatre on the Square. Henry Moss, treads Shepard's familiar terrain of a mythical American West. Two brothers (Nolte and Penn) confront each other and their violent past in the adobe house of their larger-than-life father (Jim Gammon). The play runs November 7 through December 17 at Theater on the Square. Tickets for this show are currently available with a Magic Theatre subscription only. Any remaining tickets are released for general sale at the end of July.

Other plays next season are Robert MacDonald's Death in Venice, Moira Buffini's Silence, Mark O'Rowe's Howie the Rookie, and two world premieres to be announced soon. In addition, the Magic presents two new play festivals. "Plays at the Border" speaks to intercultural themes, be they between Mexico and the United States or Western and Eastern cultures. "Science and Technology on Stage," held in collaboration with the Exploratorium, explores the intersection of arts and science.

Subscriptions for all six plays and both festivals range from $100 to $180. Gala opening night subscriptions are available for $250. For information, call (415) 441-8822 or visit www.magictheatre.org.

Artismo Show and Sale collectors, dealers, and other vendors of fine antiques under one large roof. Items for sale include textiles, decorative arts, jewelry, paintings, prints, orientalia, Americana, Native American art, pottery, vintage fashion, and coins.

Featured exhibitor this time is Guy Lanphere of San Jose, who specializes in antique magic and theatrical posters. Among these are old Laurel and Hardy advertisements and movie posters for 1920s B movies with titles like Ten Nights in a Barroom. Many of these posters are very rare and not available anywhere else.

The San Francisco Antiques and Collectibles Market takes place July 22 and 23, Saturday and Sunday from 10am to 5pm, in the Herbst Pavilion. Admission is $5. For information, call (707) 578-7772 or visit www.billweinstein.wazzu.com.

The gallery is run by two recreational artists, Sandy Jones and Carl Ramstad, who wanted to create an outlet for other emerging or professional artists. Many people who are just starting out don't have a place to display or sell their work. Artismo bridges this gap between the creators and consumers of art.

The Artismo Show and Sale takes place July 22 and 23, Saturday from 10am to 6pm and Sunday from 10am to 4pm in the Firehouse. Admission is free. For information, call (415) 721-1710 or visit www.artismo.com.

Photo San Francisco, the first annual San Francisco Photographic Print Exposition, presents sixty galleries and private dealers from the U.S., Germany, and the Czech Republic with the finest photographic art from the 19th century to the most cutting-edge contemporary photography.

Collectors, curators, and photographers have an extraordinary opportunity to view thousands of images. Show producer Stephen Cohen is also organizer of the Los Angeles Photographic Print Exposition, which celebrated its ninth year in January.

Works by Ansel Adams, Diane Arbus, Eugene Atget, Henri Cartier-Bresson, Manuel Alvarez Bravo, Imogen Cunningham, Edward S. Curtis, Michael Kenna, Robert Mapplethorpe, Man Ray, Andre Kertesz, Sebastião Salgado, Josef Sudek, Weegee, Edward Weston and many others are exhibited and for sale.

W.M. Hunt leads a panel discussion, "Introductions: The Best and Brightest of Bay Area Photographers." Hunt is a collector, curator and the director of the Ricco/Maresca Gallery. Panelists include Doug Nickel of SFMOMA, Mami Gillelte of SF Camerawork, and Deborah Klochko of Friends of Photography. The panelists offer their observations on photographers who are making their mark nationally and internationally, and provide their special overview on contemporary photography in the Bay Area.

A.D. Coleman, author and media critic, lectures on "Your Photo Opportunity Here: A Traveler's Guide to Mundo Fotográfico." Broadly defined, creative photography—fine-art and documentary photography, photojournalism, fashion and editorial photography, and photo-based art—has become a world in itself, which Coleman has dubbed "Mundo Fotográfico."

Photography enters the 21st century firmly established as the defining visual medium of the 20th century. Coleman has observed the emergence of this now globalized environment since it began to develop more than three decades ago. In this slide-illustrated lecture, he serves as a knowledgeable guide to this new context for photography, offering both the novice and the more experienced art-viewer useful strategies for thinking about and utilizing the opportunities that the "international image community" of today makes available.

On-site seminars are held at 10am each day with W.M. Hunt, A.D. Coleman, and Dale Stulz, curator and consultant. The lectures take place on Saturday, July 29: "Introductions: The Best and the Brightest of Bay Area Photographers" is at 10am, and "Your Photo Opportunity Here: A Traveler's Guide to Mundo Fotográfico" is at 1pm. Both lectures are in the Conference Center in Landmark Building A.

Lecture and panel tickets are $5 each; on-site collecting seminars are $50 each and include a three-day pass. Tickets can be bought at the door or through the Stephen Cohen Gallery. For more information, call (323) 937-5525 or visit www.photo.sanfrancisco.net.

A preview reception benefits The SOMA Partnership, a nonprofit organization that offers pre-employment training for qualified homeless residents who are recovering from alcoholism or drug dependency. The reception features entertainment, refreshments, and a silent auction. There is also a special dinner at Greens Restaurant honoring Henry Bulh, founder of the A.C.E. SOMA Partnership and a photography collector.

The preview reception is held Thursday, July 27 from 6 to 9pm. Tickets are $35. The special dinner for Henry Bulh is Thursday, July 27 at 8:30pm. Seating is limited, and tickets are $250. For reservations, call (415) 552-5201, or visit www.acticeva.com/go/somapartnership.

Photo San Francisco takes place July 28 through 30, Friday and Saturday from noon to 8pm, Sunday from noon to 6pm in the Herbst Pavilion. Tickets are $12 per day. A three-day pass is available for $20. For information, call (323) 937-5525 or visit www.photosanfrancisco.net.

ARE YOU LOOKING FOR MEETING SPACE?

FORT MASON CENTER has a wide variety of attractive and affordable facilities available for workshops, seminars, retreats, training and educational programs, performances, and special events.

Our facilities—the Conference Center, Firehouse, Herbst and Festival Pavilions, Cowell Theater, and meeting and activity rooms—are capable of handling groups from 5 to 5,000. You are welcome to make food service arrangements with a caterer of your choice.

Whether you are planning a large convention or trade show, a small meeting, or anything in between, Fort Mason Center's spectacular setting and reasonable rental rates make it an outstanding location for all events and activities. A professional staff accommodates your needs with an eye for detail and an attitude of excellence in personal and public service.

The CONFERENCE CENTER is conveniently located near the entrance to Fort Mason Center, commanding a magnificent view of the Marina and Golden Gate. This beautiful, fully carpeted facility totals more than 4,000 square feet. It includes one large room, with seating capacity of 300, a mid-size room for up to 80 people, and one breakout room with a seating capacity of 20.

CONFERENCE and MEETING ROOMS are easily adapted to whatever audio, visual, or seating set-up you need. An 8' x 16' stage is provided in the main room, and linen service is available.

Located at the northeast border of Fort Mason Center, the FIREHOUSE offers charming carpeted rooms, with track lighting and beautiful views of Alcatraz Island and the Bay. The large room seats 125; a smaller adjoining room seats 24. A space in the rear may be used as an additional breakout or service area.
